Rural Hill in Huntersville, NC, is a 265 acre working farm dating back to 1760 when Scottish immigrant and Revolutionary patriot Major John Davidson settled the land. Davidson is credited with being a signer of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence (May 15, 1775) and provided crucial aide to his cousin General William Lee Davidson's army during the Battle of Cowan's Ford. Davidson's family continued to farm the land for the next 230 years. Mecklenburg County purchased the land in 1992, leasing it to the Catawba Valley Scottish Society (CVSS) shortly thereafter. CVSS, an area nonprofit organization, agreed to manage Rural Hill as an educational center, working farm, and natural refuge, open year round to the public. Recently CVSS has purchased one of the most prestigious items original to the Rural Hill Mansion House, the Major John Davidson tall case clock. John and Violet Wilson Davidson built the first brick mansion in Mecklenburg County in 1788, naming it Rural Hill. This Aaron Willard (1770-1832) tall case clock was made in Boston in 1800, and is in amazing and original working condition with the clockmaker's label intact. Research documents attribute original ownership of this clock by Major John Davidson sometime after 1800. Join with us as we raise funds to maintain this important piece of our local culture.
